

Results-driven, experienced engineer with demonstrated leadership in both field and office environments. Career span includes leadership assignments with both major and independent energy companies across both planning and operational well phases. I bring to the table an emphasis on strong communication skills, mentoring and developing personnel, breaking cross cultural barriers finding the most effective solutions to problems. In addition to technical proficiency, I bring a can-do attitude where results drive the bottom line and where knowledge and lessons are both gleaned and shared among peers and mentees alike.
